Provincial Legislative Reports

New and stronger laws governing motorists and sportsmen were proposed in bills introduced by the government in the legislature last week.

Highways Minister Gordon Taylor outlined changes in the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act which require drivers involved in accidents to show proof of financial responsibility or have their cars confiscated.

Lands and Forests Minister Norman A. Willmore, introduced amendments to the Game Act requiring hunters to obtain permission before shooting on any private land—posted or unposted.

If the legislature passes the new vehicle traffic bill, it will go into effect next Oct. 1. It will see introduction of "financial responsibility cards" issued either by insurance companies or by the government.

What it boils down to is this: If you're involved in an accident and are covered by insurance, you produce the card to prove it. If you are not insured and carry no card your car is impounded.

For purposes of the new law, financial responsibility will mean public liability insurance of at least $5,000 for one person and 10,000 for two or more injured and property damage insurance for $1,000.

Anyone not wishing to deal with an insurance company will be able to provide himself with protection by depositing cash or surety bonds totalling $11,000 with the provincial registrar of vehicles.

The bill is patterned after similar regulations in Manitoba and British Columbia.

In some respects, it is a compromise between two types of programs which have suggested for several years by the CCF and Liberal members in the legislature.

The CCF has asked for a program of government sponsored compulsory car insurance at cost, while the Liberals have asked for laws requiring every driver to provide himself with insurance. Both of these programs would be compulsory, while the system introduced by Mr. Taylor would be voluntary.

The highways minister outlined the details of the plan while the house was discussing the annual CCF motion on car insurance.

From all indications the game act amendment was more or less forced on Mr. Willmore, and privately he is not to happy about it.

Originally, the government had not intended to introduce it this year but did so at the insistence of the Social Credit caucus. The house last year passed a resolution asking for legislation to make it illegal for anyone to hunt on private property without gaining permission.

In addition, there was pressure from various farm groups which have presented briefs to the cabinet in recent months.

Mr. Willmore's main concern is with enforcing the proposed new law. Enforcement likely will depend almost entirely on farmers reporting violations.

There is also the question of whether the new regulations infringe on federal laws covering trespassing. Some officials say landowners already are protected under the Criminal Code and the province is not supposed to legislate in federal fields.

Another section of the bill would permit farmers to post signs reading "Hunting Allowed." In such cases, permission would not be needed. This is to satisfy farmers who don't want to be bothered with hunters asking permission.

Special Program Of Dance To Be Held

An outstanding program of dancing and singing is to be presented by local class of dancers. Assisting the local group will be special dance numbers from Lethbridge featuring Highland Dancers and Tap Dancers. Some of Raymond's best musical talent will also be performing. There will be special lighting effects and all numbers will be in costume.

Mrs. M. Qually of Lethbridge has been instructing these students for the past few years and has planned an outstanding show.

The event is sponsored by the Y. L. M. I. A. of the Second Ward, and all proceeds are going for the Girls Home at Waterton.

The Review will be stayed on Friday April 13 at the Recreation Hall.

Under the leadership of these fine teachers the best is brought out in the students and they show much promise.

Easter Services Held

Sunday morning Easter Services of the Raymond, Magrath and Spring Coulee charges of the United Church were held in Magrath under the direction of Rev. Dr. Stanley Scott.

A 40 voice junior choir from Magrath and Spring Coulee sang a beautiful cantata under the direction of Mrs. P. McIntosh. A trio composed of Georgia Swedish, Judy and Norma Pommen with Diane Swedish as accompanist was delightfully rendered. Peter Vanderhilt also contributed to the program with a baritone solo.

A baptismal service was also conducted when five children were received into the congregation; two of these being the children of Mr. and Mrs. Takahashi.

At the close of the service the congregation was favored with a delightful rendition of the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's Messiah.

Easter Worship Services were held in Raymond churches on Sunday, April 1st when again we are reminded that through the Atonement all men are to partake of salvation. Hath He commanded any that they should not partake of Salvation? Behold I say unto ye Nay; but he hath given it free to all men; that all men are privileged the one like unto the other and none are forbidden. He inviteth all to come unto him and partake of his goodness and he denieth none that come to him, black or white, bond or free, male or female and he remembereth the heathen and all are alike unto God, his interest is in all men—"I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead yet shall he live; and who so ever liveth and believeth in me shall never die.

The white accessories which adorned the bride included a pan-cake style spring straw hat, gloves, purse and shoes.

Local Seminary Host At Annual Convention

The Town of Raymond enjoyed a fine privilege on Easter Monday when it played host to over 400 happy seminary students at the big 12 town annual Seminary Convention and to such famous honored guests as Mayor Don McKay of Calgary and William E. Berrett of Salt Lake City, Vice President of the L. D. S. Department of Education and author of numerous church books.

Mayor Mackay was present as guest speaker at the 2 hour testimony meeting. His message was inspirational and challenging as he admonished the young people present to acquire a testimony as the supreme goal in life; and to remember their position as light of the world.

It was very gracious of a busy man like Mayor McKay to give so willingly of his time and abilities to the young people of the South. He officiated at the dedication of a public building at Calgary at 10 a.m., spoke in Raymond at 3 p.m., and had to be back in Calgary by 7 p.m. for a council meeting.

President Berrett was able to visit only briefly, but his message was interesting and uplifting. President J. Golden Snow was the presiding host of the day and welcomed the students from Stirling, Wellington, Magrath, Cardston, Hill Spring, Glenwood, Hartley, Mt. View, Leavitt, Taber, Barnwell, Calgary and Edmonton to such enjoyable festivities as the two hour testimony meeting, a sumptuous banquet, an entertaining variety program and a dance.

It was a great day for the Seminary Students of the South, who were unanimous in agreement that aside from the honored visitors the outstanding event of the day was the testimony meeting where more than 30 teen agers bore their testimony and the wonderful association they enjoyed with the people from the surrounding towns.

There is another provision dealing with the posting of "No Shooting" signs. Any farmer who posts would have to keep off his land—including visiting friends and relatives. The only ones allowed to shoot would be members of his family who live with him.

The bill hadn't received final approval from the house at the time of writing and before passing it the government was expected to hear arguments from the Fish and Game Assn.

The new Election Act, which would return the "X" system of marking ballots to provincial elections, has become the biggest issue of the current session.

As of last Friday, members had defeated it for nine hours—six hours on second reading and three hours in committee of the whole assembly. Many more hours of debate were anticipated.

The opposition is claiming the government wants the voting system to change for political advantage—using the "X" system to split up the opposition vote among two or more parties.

Members of the house are working long hours in an effort to finish the session before Good Friday. If the assembly can't be prorogued this week there will have to be a short adjournment followed by a brief sitting in April.

A laundry for passengers' use is equipped with six automatic washing machines and ironing will be done with cordless irons aboard the new Canadian Pacific flagship Empress of Britain.

A suggestion has recently been made that divorces be announced as engagements and marriages are. That is not a new idea. In the year, divorce announcements were frequently made. Some were grave, some were gay, and some were like the following which appeared in a Yankton, S. D., newspaper: Mr. and Mrs. Peter Travis take pleasure in announcing the divorce of their dear daughter Phillipena Amelia from Mr. Ted Jones Robinson, Yankton, S. D., April 10, 1896.

The Ladies Literary Society held their regular meeting on Wednesday March 28th at the home of Emma Dahl who entertained in the absence of Jennie Stone who is ill in a Calgary Hospital.

The book review "Papa Married A Mormon" by John Fitzgerald was given by Zetella Taylor and much enjoyed by those present.

Special guests were Mrs. Sarah B. Holt and Lavern Anderson.

Mrs. Dahl assisted by Mary Stone served a delectable lunch.

Mrs. Ted Wichorst and two children of Edmonton recently enjoyed a week of visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dawley and also renewing old friendships.

Mrs. Verland Leavitt has accepted a position as relief teacher for a few weeks in the Wrentham School.

A total of more than 180 tons of paint was used in the new Canadian Pacific flagship Empress of Britain.

10 DAYS between PROFIT and LOSS

Ten days ago the grain stood straight and promising in the fields. Then the temperature dropped . . . and the crop bowed to its greatest enemy—frost.

Ten days—your earlier harvest bonus from fertilizer—would have made the difference between profit and loss from frost-killed grain. Elephant Brand high analysis fertilizers, rich in nitrogen and phosphorous plant food and "tailor-made" for the Canadian Prairies, brings grain crops to maturity faster . . . a harvest up to ten days earlier.

GROW IT THE YEAR IT PAYS

Herta Barley licensed for production in Canada.

Herta Barley and a sister variety is today in Northern Europe and in Scandinavia the most widely grown barley variety. It is also making headway in Great Britain. Overseas it is used for malting, pearling and feed.

In Canada the experimental farms and the universities have in co-operative trials during the past some years tested a number of European two-row barley side by side with Canadian barleys. Based on these tests, Herta barley was a few days ago licensed for production in Canada.

Herta barley is exceptionally good for combining. It drops its heads before it is ripe. It does not shell and its head curls like the handle of a walking stick. This helps hold the swath together. It generally weighs 53 lbs. to the bushel.

Fogelvik Farm happens to be the only grower in Alta. and now offers for sale, f.o.b. Innisfail, Alta., at the following prices for two-bushel sacks:

Herta barley seed No. 1, germination 91% $8.00

Herta barley seed No. 2, germination 76% $7.00

Herta barley seed No. 3, germination 72% $6.00

All seed is cleaned to a purity standard for cert. No. 1.

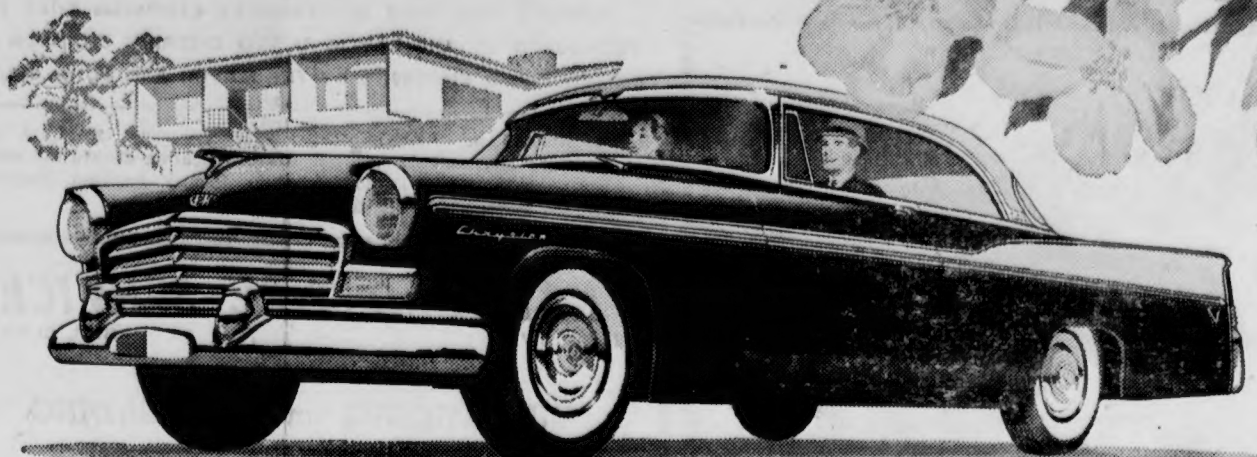

Payment with order. Limited supply. First come, first served.

Stack Mover Hauls 100 Tons a Day Without Hand Labor

Easily handling 10 to 15 8-ton stacks per day at a cost of 25¢ to $1.00 per ton, this new machine makes it possible to eliminate most of the labor and cost of moving hay from field to feed lot. When teamed with a hydraulic stacker equipped with grapple fork for removing hay from the stack, this mover makes possible the completely mechanical handling of hay from windrow to livestock.

The stack mover is a tilt-bed, trailer-type unit which loads and unloads haystacks by means of cables and winch operated from tractor P.T.O. Capacity rated at 8 tons, it handles stacks 16 ft. wide by 24 ft. long or round stacks up to 20 ft in diameter. A 2-3 plow tractor is adequate to handle the unit. The stack mover has recently been introduced by The Farmhand Company, Hopkins, Minn.

Users of this method of hay handling report these advantages. A labor reduction of 50% to 75%; completely mechanized handling in large units; avoids repetition in handling; no wire or twine to buy; hay spends less time in windrow; stacks can be moved in slack seasons; extremely long moving season; practically no machine operating or maintenance cost; elimination of "hardware disease"; better weathering of hay in stacks than bale piles; long moving season makes possible custom moving or sharing use and cost of stack mover for the benefit of the smaller operator.
